yaya yaya abah abah bobi bobi cecobbo a

Handwritten musical notation on a single staff, featuring various notes, rests, and accidentals (sharps, naturals, flats). The notation is dense and appears to be a complex piece of music, possibly a fugue or a variation. The notes are written in a cursive style, and the accidentals are clearly marked. The overall appearance is that of a manuscript or a working draft.

Handwritten musical notation on five-line staves, featuring various letters and symbols. The notation is organized into two rows of six groups each. The first row includes groups like 'ay', 'y y', 'a', 'y y y', 'y y y', and 'y y y'. The second row includes groups like 'y y y', 'y y y', 'y y y', 'y y y', 'y y y', and 'y y y'. Below the second row, there is a large, stylized signature or name, possibly 'Hoculus' or 'Hoculus'.

Handwritten musical notation on a single page, featuring a single staff with a treble clef. The notation is written in a cursive, handwritten style, likely representing a musical score. The page is numbered "1" in the bottom right corner. The notation includes various notes, rests, and bar lines, with some notes marked with "f" (forte) and "p" (piano). The handwriting is somewhat messy and shows signs of being a working draft.

Handwritten musical notation on two staves, featuring various notes, rests, and clefs. The notation includes many accidentals (sharps, flats, naturals) and is written in a cursive, historical style. The first staff contains several measures of music, including notes with stems and beams, and rests. The second staff continues the notation, with some measures showing more complex rhythmic patterns. The handwriting is fluid and characteristic of 18th or 19th-century musical manuscripts.

2j. Lingering Deat.

Handwritten musical notation on a single page, featuring two staves. The notation is complex, with many notes, rests, and dynamic markings (e.g., fort., piu.). The handwriting is in a cursive style, typical of 18th or 19th-century musical manuscripts. The page is numbered '1' in the top right corner.
